

MYSTERIOUS BOMB EXPLOSION!

GIRL SLAVES IN CHINATOWN ARE OBJECT OF RAID

Police Squad With Woman Interpreter Visit the District.

An investigation was carried on in Chinatown today by Captain Peterson, who made a report to me concerning it.

"Chinatown has become so large in this city that I desire to know what is going on there, so I have ordered an investigation. The policemen on their beats could not learn what I desired to know, so a special squad has been sent out. The Chinese woman was sent along as an interpreter, but I did not know that any axes were taken along."

Chief Wilson was called before the Grand Jury several days ago, and it is thought that today's investigation is a result of inquiries made by the inquisitorial body. As to this, Chief Wilson would say nothing.

MISSION A SUCCESS.

Captain of Police Peterson was successful in his investigation, having been detailed to look into rumors of a slave trade, as was surmised. Captain Peterson was accompanied by Miss D. Cameron of the Presbyterian Chinese Mission of East Oakland and Miss C. G. Davis of the Methodist Chinese Mission of Berkeley, as well

When asked concerning the investigation this morning, Chief Wilson said: "I have detailed Captain of Police Peterson and a squad of officers to make an investigation in Chinatown. This is being done at my request and for my own personal knowledge. The investigation was to have been carried on some weeks ago, but a delay was occasioned. One investigation was carried on by Captain Peterson, who made a report to me concerning it."

The investigating party visited Chinatown about 3 o'clock this morning, Captain Peterson taking implements with him with which to batter down doors. Many places were visited in Chinatown by the party, and the investigation was an extensive one.

SKULLS AND BONES OF CHILD IN LOS ANGELES RIVER BED

Growsome Find Startles Police, but Is Traced to University Dissecting Class.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—The police were last night startled by a report that portions of three bodies had been discovered in the Los Angeles river bottom, in a section used for the disposal of garbage. A woman residing near the Santa Fe crossing found the skulls of two adults, the bones of a child and portions of mutilated flesh. Detectives visited the scene, but it was not until the coroner's deputies arrived that the theory of foul play was abandoned through recognition of the fact that the fragments had come from a dissecting room.

Coroner Lanterman denounced the persons responsible for placing the mangled remains in such a place, and it is probable that an investigation will be made. The coroner said:

"Among the pile of bones and dried flesh we found some books and papers indicating that the bodies came from the University of Southern California."

OPERATIONS HERE OF SAN FRANCISCO REALTY AGENTS

Intimations That They Were Seeking Quarters for the Emporium Department Store.

Rumors have been persistent on the street for several days past that the Emporium department store of San Francisco was seeking a location on San Pablo avenue. The rumor seems to have been based upon an application made by San Francisco realty agents, who were endeavoring to secure a lease from the San Pablo Realty Company of the four-story L shaped brick building, with one frontage on San Pablo avenue, in the middle of the block north of Eighteenth street, and the other frontage on the latter thoroughfare in the middle of the block, east of the avenue. Without saying it, these agents gave the owner of the building to understand that they were representing the Emporium. At all events, the deal has not been consummated, as no agreement could be reached on the terms of the leasehold. The foundation walls of the building are now being constructed.

LAW WILL STOP FLIGHT OF BIG FINANCIAL KINGS

Federal Lawyers to Force
Them Before Interstate Board.

E. H. HARRIMAN.

Fearing that William Rockefeller, James Stillman (president of the National City Bank of New York), and other Wall Street financiers will flee to Europe to escape the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission in its investigation of the alleged $25,000,000 "rake-off" in the gigantic Harriman railroad combine, orders have been given by the government attorneys in Chicago to have subpoenas served on the financiers to prevent them from leaving the United States. Subpoenas will also be served in New York on H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Company, Henry C. Frick, a former partner of Andrew Carnegie, Jacob Schiff of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and other financiers, who, it is feared, may also leave the country while the investigation is in progress. Evidence on the charge that E. H. Harriman and the Standard Oil officials, personally profited to the extent of $25,000,000 in the $110,000,000 deal by which the Union Pacific Railroad purchased stock in the competing lines, is expected to be obtained in the information gained from Rockefeller, Stillman and other financiers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Orders have been issued by government attorneys in this city for the issuance of subpoenas to prevent certain financiers from leaving the country, it being feared that they will flee to Europe to escape the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in its investigation of the alleged $25,000,000 "rake-off" in the gigantic Harriman railroad combine.

Among those who will be subpoenaed, it is said, are William Rockefeller, James Stillman, president of the National City Bank of New York; H. H. Rogers of the Standard Oil Company; Henry C. Frick, a former partner of Andrew Carnegie; Jacob Schiff of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., and other financiers.

$25,000,000 RAKE-OFF.

It is expected that in the information obtained from these men evidence will be adduced in connection with the charge that E. H. Harriman and the Standard Oil officials personally profited to the extent of $25,000,000 in the $110,000,000 deal by which the Union Pacific Railroad purchased stock in the competing lines.

Dispatches from New York announce that the plans of the commission were communicated to Rogers.

ADDITIONAL CAPITAL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The announcement of an intended issue of additional capital by the Pennsylvania railway company to the extent of $100,000,000 in bonds and $100,000,000 in stocks served to shock speculative investment in the stock market today.

BILLS DELAYED AFTER HEATED TALK IN HOUSE

Governor Gillett's Message
Read—Senate Holds Brief Session.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—The assembly convened at 10:15 o'clock and the opening routine followed.

Mr. Johnson of Sacramento made a motion that Rule 73 of the lower house be stricken from the book, as it was unnecessary and apt to be confusing. While the motion was still under discussion a message was announced from the governor. Mr. Johnson's motion was adopted.

Several minor resolutions were sent to the desk.

Mr. Stanton sent up a resolution to the effect that a time for introducing bills be set for today.

Mr. Johnson made a motion that the routine business be completed first, and Mr. Stanton temporarily withdrew his resolution.

A list of four final appointments was sent to the desk and adopted. This practically exhausted the patronage of the lower house.

Governor Gillett's message was then read and merely contained a few words in regard to the source of the correspondence from his office.

HEATED DEBATE.

Considerable of a heated debate arose in connection with Mr. Stanton's motion to begin the introduction of bills today.

The resolution regarding the setting of today for the introduction of bills was defeated.

A few names were submitted in the list of appointees. A motion was submitted and adopted that the assembly adjourn until Monday at 11 o'clock.

The senate was in session about fifteen minutes this morning, when Senator Leavitt moved that the body adjourn until Monday at 10 o'clock.

MORE ROOMS.

A resolution was sent to the desk by Senator Keane to the effect that fifteen additional committee rooms be secured. The motion was adopted.

The pairage of the upper house has not been exhausted and it is probable that there will undoubtedly be at least fifty more appointments.

FALL FROM MOVING TRAIN LIKELY TO PROVE FATAL

Doctors at Receiving Hospital Hold Out Little Hope for G. M. Pippin, Who Was Hurt Last Night.

G. M. Pippin, an ironmoulder, thirty years of age, of Sheffield, Alabama, lies between life and death on a cot in the receiving hospital as the result of injuries received by jumping from a rapidly moving train at the Sixteenth-street station at 8 o'clock last night. He was found in an unconscious condition at the side of the track by L. J. Finerman, of 1172 Eighth street, who summoned the police patrol and had the young man removed to the hospital.

From the position of the body it is supposed that Pippin leaped from the car before it reached the depot. Drs. Irwin and Bell attended the man at the receiving hospital and it was found that the base of the skull was fractured and the right side paralyzed.

The doctors hold out little or no hope for the young mechanic, who has not yet regained consciousness.

GIRL LEAPS FROM CAR IN GLARE OF FLASHING FUSE

Miss Jessie Walker Suffers Dislocation of Shoulder in Fright Early This Morning.

The sudden flash of a fuse on a University-avenue car at 11:30 this morning caused Miss Jessie Walker, a stenographer aged forty-five years, residing at 1908 University avenue, to leap from the car to the street, and in so doing she dislocated her right shoulder. A traction company conductor took her to the receiving hospital, where Dr. O. D. Haskin set the dislocation. Miss Walker was with many other passengers on the car that was bearing the theater-goers home, when the electric fuse exploded. The glare of the electricity frightened her so badly that she sprang to the street to avoid what she thought was immediate danger. In falling she lost her balance and struck the pavement on her shoulder.

FLAMES FROM EXPLODING CELLULOID END 20 LIVES

Dreadful Accident in German Bookbindery—Many Employes Suffer Fearful Scalds.

STRASSBURG, Jan. 11.—Twenty persons perished today in a fire which destroyed the bookbindery of Wagner & Company, an English firm at Osterpolheim, near this city. A vast quantity of celluloid, employed in the binding of books, was stored in the building and liquid caused such instantaneous destruction of everything with which it came into contact that all the exits were cut off in a very short time. Some of those who escaped from the burning rooms were badly scalded.

AMERICANS IN RUSSIA FACING AN UNKNOWN DEATH!

A Deadly Missile Is

the People Escape

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 11.—(6:35 p. m.)—There was a mysterious bomb explosion today at Vassily Island, in the court yard of a house at the corner of Little Prospect street, a part of that district of St. Petersburg where many English families reside.

Though the bomb tore a hole three feet deep in the ground and drove splinters a foot in the walls of adjoining houses, no one was injured.

The perpetrators escaped.

CHURCH DOES NOT DESIRE WAR

ROME, Jan. 11.—The Observatore Romano today published the text of an encyclical addressed by the Pope to the French Catholics. The French Government's declaration of war was, he said, not only against the Christian faith, but against all spiritual ideas.

The French Catholics must be prepared for all sorts of trials, but they are certain of final victory. The most important maintenance of their union with the Holy See, which was of the greatest importance. Contrary to the statements made on the subject, the church did not desire a religious war.

Regarding the ecclesiastical properties, the encyclical said the Pope had not abandoned them. The French Government has imposed on the Catholics of France, an organization which the church was absolutely unable to accept without impeding her existence as a divine institution.

The church could not prevent the unjust spoliation in progress, for, as the proposed cultural associations were opposed to the hierarchy established by Christ, the Pope condemns them in spite of the consequent material injuries involved at the hands of the Government.

ARTICLES OF FISH COMPANY FILED

Articles of incorporation of the Alaska-American Fish Company were filed with the county clerk this morning. The company will have its headquarters in this city for a term of fifty years. Its capital stock is $300,000, of which amount $15 has been actually subscribed by the following original board of directors: G. W. Fisher, P. A. Wilder, M. C. Merrill, J. B. Richardson, M. J. Conley, George Sanderford, Theodore Higgins, G. Erwin Benckendorf and H. D. Edgson.

MOTION DENIED IN DEXTER SUIT
Plaintiff in Divorce Case Denied Attorney's Fees and Alimony.
A motion for attorney's fees and a petition for alimony were denied without prejudice this morning by Judge Waster. In the sensational divorce suit which Gertrude T. Dexter is waging against Newton R. Dexter.
Pretty Mrs. Dexter brought suit against her young husband, claiming that he pawned all her valuables. Even the diamond rings, furs, clothes and a plate which had not been paid for are articles which she claims her spouse is disposing of in exchange for a washroom vanity. The contest for separation has been bitterly waged in the Superior Court. Mrs. Dexter attempted to recover attorney fees and alimony.
When the case was called this morning, an order was made denying the petition without prejudice.
HE MARRIED TWICE SINCE BOGUS DIVORCE
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Twice married since she accepted in good faith a bogus divorce decree which seems to have been forged and which bears much wax and revenue stamps to add to its impressiveness, Frederick W. Niemann, an inebriated and penniless man, was yesterday No. 2 died after living happily with Niemann for three years, and wife No. 3 is named as co-respondent by wife No. 1, who turns up now suing for divorce after a silence of six years.

OLGA NETHERSOLE SCORES GREAT TRIUMPH IN CARMEN
A Packed House Grets the Great Actress at the Macdonough in Her Great Gypsy Role.

By JOSEPH E. BAKER.
Although "Carmen" is not her greatest rôle nor the play so entitled the strongest one in her repertoire, Olga Nethersole scored her most pronounced triumph in Oakland last night. The Macdonough was packed from orchestra to ceiling by an audience warmly appreciative, yet also keenly critical, for there was not a little speculation as to how Miss Nethersole would acquit herself depicting a feminine type so widely distinct from the types she had hitherto portrayed to this public.
In "Sapho" she had shown us the Parisian cocotte. In "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," her English prototype shifted from the gay scenes and care-free pleasures of the London half world to the dull monotony and social austerity of rural British respectability. In "The Labyrinth" a powerful and instructive but gloomy piece—she portrayed a pure, proud but wronged wife caught in the net of an unfortunate circumstance. Her success in all these rôles was complete, but in "Carmen" she had a different part to deal with—a character at once bizarre, insouciant, unemotional, and that she captured her audience is due alone to her talent, not to the quality of her support, the character of the play nor sympathy with the heroine.
Not only did Miss Nethersole have to carry the burden of the whole play, but the audience kept instinctively listening for the lilting melodies of Bizet's Spanish music made so familiar to the public by frequent presentation of his popular opera. The scenes and the lines of the play follow so closely those of the opera—both being adapted from Prosper Mérimée's Andalusian tale—that the orchestral strains seemed a necessary accompaniment to the stage action. Miss Nethersole had to conquer the subtle consciousness of a void by the vigor and power of her personal delineation, for her support was wretchedly weak where it should have been particularly strong. That she surmounted the drawback of a weak cast and the absence of the musical accompaniment so inseparably connected with "Carmen," is the highest testimonial to her dramatic skill, power and strategy.
Mr. Mills made a fairly good Don Jose, although his Saxon temperament handicaps him, but Mr. Maturin as the lieutenant was vile. Mr. Royce's matador reminded one of Joemee Yellow-plush in a bal masque below stairs. He has neither the fire nor the grace belonging to the part. Miss Pearson as Dolores was better, but still was much more of the English ingénue than the simple maiden from the Basque Pyrenees. And all along the line the support was distinctly inferior, due more to a lack of adaptability than to stupidity or absence of genuine ability.
The play was superbly mounted and appropriately costumed, however, and the action again demonstrated the magnificent stage discipline of the company. And, in spite of everything, the audience was delighted. Miss Nethersole's costumes were, as usual, rich and beautiful. The sartorial harmony is to be ascribed to the fact that Miss Nethersole personally bought the costumes in Spain.
Tonight "Adrienne Lecouvreur," one of Sarah Bernhardt's favorite pieces, will be presented.

STRIPED SUITS NOT WANTED
NEW PETITION FOR REMOVAL

New Deal is Suggested at the Penal Prisons of the State
Special to THE TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—Striped suits for prisoners in the prisons of California are to be abandoned and will be substituted with suits of red, blue or gray. If "stripes" should be retained at all, they will be for a class of criminals who are of a degraded character, who take pleasure in the infraction of prison laws and who evince no desire to reform.
PRISONERS IN THREE CLASSES.
It is proposed to divide the prisoners into three classes, with distinctive uniforms or dress based upon meritorious conduct as practiced in the best prisons of the country.
The selection of a suitable site for the new penitentiary is the recommendation of the special committee consisting of Senators Heshaw of Contra Costa, Carrer of Los Angeles and McKee of Sacramento appointed at the last session of the Legislature.
WORKED DURING VACATION.
This committee was instructed to meet during the time intervening between the two sessions, in conjunction with the State Board of Charities, to consider the matter of the construction of a new penitentiary, the location of a suitable site therefor, and other matters relating to the improvement of penal institutions.
ISLAND PENITENTIARY.
At that time it was apparent that a building for the State would be necessary and the idea was suggested that the new place of imprisonment should be located on an island.
The committee held several meetings during the interim and will report that it has been unable to find an island for the purpose proposed, but that, nevertheless, a third penitentiary will soon become a necessity.
This recommendation is based upon the fact that the committee, by the State Board of Charities and Corrections to the effect that, two years ago, there was a total of 2321 persons confined in the prisons at San Quentin and Folsom. Of these, there were 1413 prisoners, exclusive of females, confined in San Quentin, and 908 in Folsom.
PRISONERS INCREASE.
On June 30 of last year the total number of prisoners, irrespective of sex, in both the prisons mentioned increased to 2600, of which number 1685 were in San Quentin and 915 in Folsom.
The theory upon which the change from stripes to a colored suit, according to the class to which the prisoner is assigned, is that the striped suit is degrading. At both of the prisons in this State, all the prisoners, the committee and board hold, are clad in stripes and there is no systematic effort to classify them.

THINK GIRL IS DEAD
NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Relatives and friends of Miss Carrie Bogert, who was a clerk in the post office at Englewood, N. J., believe that she committed suicide by jumping into the Hudson River from the ferryboat Englewood.
The police of Englewood have learned that Miss Bogert had been dependent for some time as a result of ill-health. Charles W. Chamberlain, a brother-in-law of the woman, identified the cloak and bon which were found on the ferryboat as having belonged to Miss Bogert. He also said that the young woman had written a letter to his wife, saying that she was going to "end it all."
The police also found a witness who said that he had seen Miss Bogert take a Port Lee car shortly after 4 o'clock. Another witness said that he was sure he had seen Miss Bogert board the ferry at about 4:30 o'clock. It was after the 4:35 o'clock run that Captain Flannagan of the Edgewater found the cloak and the bon.

COAST LINE STILL BLOCKED

Otherwise Traffic Between Los Angeles and North Is Normal.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—With the exception of the Southern Pacific between here and San Francisco, which still remains in bad shape, the railroad situation in this city is again normal and all storm damage is repaired. The coast line of the Southern Pacific will be out of commission for many days, from destruction to bridges, washouts and landslides. No effort will be made to run trains over this division until temporary repairs are completed. The Valley line is in somewhat better shape. One train was sent north on this line yesterday and others will be started today. The first train to start on regular schedule since the storm will be the regular Overland train leaving for San Francisco at 5 p. m. tonight. Two trains from New Orleans for San Francisco which arrived here last night will be started north this evening over the Valley line. Word received at Southern Pacific headquarters here indicate that the line at the caved in tunnels and places of landslide are being rapidly cleared.

ONE WHISTLE FOR A TOWN

Costs One Dollar to Blow—Can be Heard for Ten Miles.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11.—East St. Louis has the biggest siren whistle in the world. It is a remarkable triple machine with three voices—a three-chime whistle, whose capacity for the annihilation of peace is extraordinary. This whistle blows a ten-mile blast at half steam, and with favorable wind has a disturbing power of twenty miles. It costs a dollar every time it is blown. But this great whistle is not all noise. It is an idea in economy, a whistle trust, a noise combine. Almost all the little noises, whistles, toots and whines of smaller mechanical throats in East St. Louis are now dumb. The giant whistle trust whistles for them. The independent whistles have to whistle on time to be heard.
Within the range of this whistle are said to be 100,000 people who tell time by it.

The remarkable whistle has been installed by the East St. Louis and suburban Electric railway company at the Bell power house, State and Twentieth streets, where the company's machine shops and car barns are located. The greatest modern siren comprises three whistles. The largest is almost six feet in height and nearly as big around as a man. On each side of the main one is a smaller whistle. The three units combine to make one noise, with which even Cabanne, miles away, across the Mississippi river, in the west end of St. Louis, is well acquainted.
This big triple whistle was also set up at the railway company's electrical generating station "as a feature." It is connected with an electric clock, which is regulated by the government standard time sent out from Washington on the dropping of a ball at exactly noon each day.

The electric clock which connects with the whistle is guaranteed not to vary five seconds in time a year, and the clock's record to date is satisfactory. Almost every man looks at his watch when the first blast is sounded by the big whistle at 7 o'clock in the morning. Almost every housewife in East St. Louis glances at her mantle clock when the siren wows noon—the second blast of the day. The third blast is an hour later, and the last is at 6 o'clock in the evening.

Willie and the Big Town
Gee, but Oakland is surely waking up, and this is going to be a big town. Some feller with nerve as big as a cabbage has suggested that a committee be appointed to make Oakland a town of 500,000 people by sunset on December 31, 1910, and he will do it and Oakland will do it. My bosses are on the committee and they ain't no slouches when it comes to being boosters. They never handled a hammer in their lives and if 300,000 more people come to Oakland we can sell more clothes, more suits and overcoats and boys' duds and hat and shoes, and what a big biz we will do. That's the way to look at things, and when this committee meets next Wednesday evening I am going over to the Chamber of Commerce and get in a jar of exhibits or under the table and I am going to hear what they say. Boost or bust is my motto.

HANDSOME SYNAGOGUE TO BEAUTIFY CITY
NEW HOME FOR BETH JACOB CONGREGATION

$12,000 EDIFICE TO RISE AT NINTH AND CASTRO STREETS

TEMPLE BETH JACOB, NINTH AND CASTRO STREETS, OAKLAND.

A handsome and up-to-date Jewish Synagogue, which will add in a large measure to the attractions and improvements of Oakland, is to be erected in this city by the Beth Jacob congregation. A site has already been secured at the northeast corner of Ninth and Castro streets, and the construction of the building will be commenced at once. The Synagogue will cost $12,000. The edifice will have its principal entrance on Castro street, with a side entrance on Ninth street. It will be oriental in design, in accordance with the traditional orthodox Jewish form. The exterior will be treated with plaster and tile in warm and pleasing colors. The principal feature of the interior is the auditorium, seating, including the gallery, about seven hundred people. This auditorium will be finished in dark woods of simple and tasteful designs and all the chancel furniture and equipment will be carried out in character with the general interior finish. The day Synagogue will be located on the first story, beneath the auditorium, and is provided with sliding sash so that it may be thrown into the large lodge room which takes up the entire length of the building on the Ninth street side. These rooms, in keeping with the finish of the rest of the building, will be extremely simple, dark-stained woods to be used as in the auditorium.

The access to and egress from all parts of the building is amply provided for by stairways in the corner towers, which stairways are so arranged as to provide easy egress in case of fire. In addition to the larger rooms in the basement, four class-rooms are provided for the carrying on of the Jewish educational movement. A commodious kitchen and pantry is provided for use in the entertainments in connection with the social and lodge work, and the building will be fully equipped with up-to-date sanitary arrangements.

Private rooms for use of the Rabbi and the Presidents complete the equipment of the Synagogue. The congregation hopes to dedicate the building before the end of the spring season.

Much of the credit for projecting and carrying on the arrangements for this handsome structure is due to the untiring efforts of Rev. Dr. Heller and the building committee of the congregation.

The building was designed by A. Merrill Bowser, a newcomer in Oakland, formerly a practitioner in Boston, Massachusetts.

Manuel Alves, charged with assault to murder, it being alleged that he stabbed the injured sailor, was held over to the Superior Court by Police Judge Smith. James Furtado, who pleaded not guilty, was found not guilty and discharged. Manuel Macario and James Joseph, who pleaded guilty to three charges of battery each, were sentenced to pay a fine of $200 or spend one hundred days in jail on each charge. Sentence on Joseph Cravalho will be imposed tomorrow on three charges, and one of petit larceny, to which he pleaded guilty.

TWO ARE SHOT FROM AMBUSH

Bert and Will Jenks Killed at Eureka—Claimed Strikers Are Assassins.

RICHMOND, Jan. 11.—Asa Jenks, of this city, received word yesterday that two brothers, Bert and Will, had been shot from ambush by striking longshoremen at Eureka, and killed.

It appears from telegrams to relatives of the dead men here and press dispatches that the non-union longshoremen had been engaged during the day in loading the Gualala for the Humboldt Stevedore Company, having taken the places of the strikers, and upon the completion of their day's labors at 5 o'clock left for their homes, taking a route close to the Bay Side Mill wharf. They had proceeded but a short distance when they were fired upon from ambush by the angered strikers.

At the firing of the first shot, Bert Jenks fell dead, having been shot through the head. Will Jenks, the brother, immediately pulled a gun and returned the fire. A fusillade followed. The strikers were bent on getting their man and they did so. The second of the Jenks boys fell pierced with five bullets from the ambuscaders' weapons. The bullets from Jenks' gun, however, had not gone astray, and one of his cowardly assailants fell mortally wounded, a ball passing through his lungs.

Jenks died a few hours later, but not before he had identified three of the attacking party. "Jack" Hayes, who was wounded, is said to be from San Francisco.

Asa Jenks, the brother, and A. C. Jenks, an uncle of the dead boys, left here this morning for the scene of the fatal affair. They will attend the funeral of the boys, which will be held Sunday, and will assist in running to earth the assassins in the hope that justice may be meted out to them.

A Piano Sale
for Two Days

We have about twenty or thirty used pianos which we are going to dispose of at greatly reduced prices considering their real value. We do not mean to infer that we have a KNABE, MASON & HAMLIN, STEINWAY or some other high-grade piano, as good as new, that we are going to offer you for $75 or $100, as this we consider would be an insult to your better judgment, and we do not wish to be stamped as a fake house by all of our competitors as well as the public in general; but when we advertise certain pianos at certain prices, you can depend upon it that we have the goods to deliver, and when you visit our store, provided you come before the goods are sold, you will get one of the following pianos at the prices for which they are advertised. Remember this sale is to last for two days only—Saturday and Monday. Following is a partial list of these pianos, which are the specials for Saturday:

- One good Emerson Piano, we believe it to be a regular $375 piano, in good condition, price now $195
- One $300 Hamilton Piano, good condition $190
- One Wing & Son Piano, practically new $165
- One Kingsbury Piano, regular price $350, now $220
- One Kingsbury Piano, regular price $350, good as new, $255
- One fine little Ludwig Piano, Oak case $285
- One Schliecher Piano, good as new $195
- One elegant Ludwig Piano, good as new $310
- One Price & Teeple, in good condition $220

In addition to the above we have a lot of square pianos, which we wish to close out quickly, some of which are in very good condition. Take your pick at $25 each, also two fine organs, which we will sell at $25 each. One upright $45. We will accept any of the above pianos any time within three years from date of sale, as part payment on a beautiful Knabe, which is the highest attainable standard of piano, or any other new piano we carry.

Improve the Water Front.

The improvement of the water front is of overshadowing importance to the city of Oakland. It is of vital concern to the whole State, but for this city it dwarfs every other immediate project for building up a great maritime and commercial center on the eastern shore of the bay. The shipping interests on both sides of the bay are clamoring for better port facilities and larger dockage room. Commerce in San Francisco as well as Oakland is sorely handicapped by the lack of wharves and berth room at the docks and piers. The lack of adequate accommodations for marine traffic affects the growth of the city as nothing else can. The cars are brought to the water's edge here, but the facilities for laying deep-water ships alongside the car tracks are lacking, generally speaking. It is of transcendent importance to this community that these facilities should be supplied.

In the matter of providing port facilities, Oakland occupies a position entirely different from that of San Francisco. The State owns and controls the San Francisco water front, collects the revenues derived therefrom and expends them in enlarging and improving the port facilities. On this side of the bay the water front has passed into private ownership, consequently we must look to private enterprise to provide the piers, docks, wharves and other facilities indispensable to maritime commerce. Upon the government rests the duty of dredging and maintaining the harbor channels and providing lighthouses, beacons, bouys and other devices for the safety of navigation, but private enterprise alone must be depended upon to provide on this side of the bay the accessories and facilities for marine traffic that the State provides across the bay. Therefore every encouragement should be extended to every legitimate scheme for improving the water front, for the water front is valueless to the city unless it is improved and free access to it provided. Every corporation or person desiring to construct wharves, docks and piers, and to fill in the mud flats separating the shore from deep water should have the cordial good will and co-operation of the entire community.

The Western Pacific, the Southern Pacific, the Key Route and the Union Belt Line Company all have formed plans for improving the harbor front and providing the port facilities of which Oakland stands in such great need. All should be encouraged and treated fairly. Of course, everything depends upon the right of access to the sections of the water front it is contemplated to improve, for without access the purpose of the proposed improvements would be defeated, and unless there is a reasonable prospect of the proposed improvements being made profitable to the projectors thereof they will not be made and the water front will remain in its present neglected condition.

As the future of Oakland as a marine metropolis is bound up in the improvement of the water front, it is of the utmost importance that the questions collateral to the proposed improvements should be viewed from a broad, unprejudiced standpoint. The display of a narrow, prejudiced spirit at this time would greatly retard the growth of the city and indefinitely postpone its cherished aspiration to become a great seaport. There should be a thirty-foot channel into the Brooklyn basin, and the bay front should be studded with piers and docks. We must have an abundance of such facilities if the commerce of the Orient, the South Seas and South America is to discharge and load at our water front. A hearty welcome should be given to all who stand ready to construct the necessary appurtenances to marine commerce. Access should be provided, not denied, for piers, docks and wharves are useless unless they can be made available for the purposes for which they are intended.

The great body of the Chinese merchants in the wholesale and retail trade are located in Oakland and will remain here if the water front is improved so they can conduct their business expeditiously and economically, but we cannot expect railroad companies or enterprising capitalists to improve the water front if they are hampered by onerous restrictions or blocked in their efforts to utilize their property and realize returns on their investments. Nor will Oakland benefit by restrictions which stifle development and place an embargo on the ocean commerce we are so anxious to have come here. Unless adequate facilities are provided for handling it on the water front, foreign commerce will not come to Oakland, nor will bonded warehouses be built for the accommodation of importers. We cannot hobble enterprise on the water front and hope to compete with places where it is unhampered. Railroads will not seek entrance to the city if access to the water front is made difficult or denied altogether, and freight handling made tedious, expensive and unprofitable.

These suggestions are demanding enlightened consideration at this particular time for several reasons: First, we are asking the government to expend a large sum to improve our harbor, second, extensive improvements to accommodate ship and rail traffic on the bay front are under projection, and third, the commercial development of Oakland renders imperatively necessary the improvement of the harbor and the water front. Let the door be opened wide to all such improvements, and hearty co-operation be given to all willing to make them.

The olive crop of Spain is short, but that does not matter, the cottonseed crop of the United States is unusually large, so there will be no lack of salad oil.

Now that Judge Coffey has been elected presiding judge of the San Francisco Superior Court, it is to be hoped there will be no grounds to complain that cases are assigned unfairly.

THE TRIBUNE'S WONDERFUL ADVANCE.

Marvelous as has been the growth of Oakland since the great fire destroyed San Francisco, the newspapers have kept pace with it. Indeed, the OAKLAND TRIBUNE is now one of the best papers published in California. The TRIBUNE must have doubled the capacity of its plant during the last four or five months, for the facility with which it increases its size and the thoroughness and promptness with which it manages its news service is but little short of phenomenal. Oakland people must have a keen appreciation of such newspaper enterprise, otherwise the TRIBUNE could not have been maintained at such a high standard so long.—Woodland Democrat.

OAKLAND IN THE GREATER CLASS.

The OAKLAND TRIBUNE'S Greater Oakland edition certainly demonstrated that Oakland is in the "greater" class. The special number consisted of 98 pages, handsomely illustrated, and full of interesting facts about the rapidly growing city beside the bay. It was a credit to the journalism of the State.—Pasadena Star.

Thoughts on St. Jackson's Day.

The celebration of St. Jackson's Day appears to be going out of fashion with the untirred but depleted, discouraged and dispirited Democracy. There were a few perfunctory banquets on January 8, but the Democratic papers, most of them at any rate, passed over the anniversary of Old Hickory in silence. The memory of the battle of New Orleans—taken all in all, the most glorious event in the military history of the American people—seems to be fading from the Democratic mind. Perhaps when it ceases to be symbolical of political partizanship, its anniversary will be more generally appreciated for the national significance of the victory it commemorates. Although peace had been concluded when Pakenham and his Peninsular veterans were vanquished by an inferior body of New Orleans frontiersmen, the defeat of Jackson and the capture of New Orleans would have, in all probability, involved the republic in fresh difficulties with Great Britain, a nation that has always seized opportunity with small respect for right and treaty obligations, and we would probably have had to fight again or make further concessions as the price of British evacuation of Louisiana. England would have held New Orleans and the mouth of the Mississippi, if she did no more, till the Oregon boundary was fixed to her satisfaction. She would have insisted on getting the Puget Sound country and the mouth of the Columbia as the price of surrendering Louisiana and the mouth of the Mississippi. Jackson's triumph at New Orleans, therefore, averted grave diplomatic complications and preserved to the United States a splendid territory fronting on the Pacific in the northwest. So, if the anniversary of the battle of New Orleans falls into desuetude as a day for factional celebration it will become a day of larger national significance and be accepted as commemorative of an event of vast importance in the history of the republic. It was not for the Democratic party but for the American people that Old Hickory and his stout frontiersmen preserved every inch of the imperial domain Jefferson purchased from France, and our farflung line on the broad Pacific is a heritage held by the American valor displayed on the plains of Chalmette, for without New Orleans and the mouth of the Mississippi there would have been no annexation of Texas, no war with Mexico and no acquisition of California, Arizona, Nevada, Utah, Colorado and New Mexico. American progress would have stayed its foot east of the Rocky Mountains, nor reached the shores of the Pacific, over which its starry banner now waves in undisputed supremacy. So, here's a health to Andy Jackson and three times three for the day he won the battle of New Orleans.

A Friend of Humanity Departs.

The death of Archbishop Montgomery is a loss to humanity. While the State has lost a noble and upright citizen and the Catholic church an able and influential prelate, mankind has lost a helper, a leader and an unselfish friend. It would be impossible to praise the character of the late coadjutor archbishop of San Francisco too highly. His conception of the priestly office was truly apostolic. His broad, tolerant mind, gentle spirit and benignant temper abhorred strife, wrong and oppression. He combined the perception of a statesman with the pitying sympathy of a philanthropist. All his life he sought to cleanse and lift up society, to plant the foot of faith not only on firmer but broader and higher ground, and to impress the divine lesson of peace and good will upon all who came under his influence. Archbishop Montgomery was a leader in movements to better political and social conditions, and co-operated in fraternal spirit with Protestants, Jews and freethinkers in all endeavors to elevate the standard of public morals and inculcate civic righteousness. He was an exemplar of those virtues which mark the loftiest type of citizen, and his piety was distinguished by abnegation, modesty and a wide-embracing charity. Hence he was beloved and respected by all classes of citizens and by the adherents of all creeds. He was a true type of the exalted Christian, both inside and outside the Roman communion. "Blessed are the pure in heart," said the Christ. Surely the priesthood of George Montgomery closes where eternal blessedness begins.

Remember that the park bond election takes place next Monday, January 14, and that civic policy and civic pride call to every citizen to vote yes. Voting for progress is a good way to begin the week. No citizen should fail to go to the polls next Monday, and all should carry this motto in their memory, "Parks, progress and prosperity for Oakland."

To Hon. Samuel P. Hall THE TRIBUNE extends its congratulations and the compliments of the season. He received the largest vote of any of the candidates for Appellate Judge in this district, and now he has drawn the longest term—twelve years. So fortune has been as kind to the Judge as his fellow-citizens, yet we are confident that his desert is equal to his honors and his good luck. Here's a happy New Year to him, and many more beside, hoping that even if a soft seat on the woolsack and a stomach with good capon lined incline him to physical rotundity, the sharp angles of his square decisions will never wear off.

CATARRH PREPARES THE SYSTEM FOR CONSUMPTION

While Catarrh in its first stages usually affects the head, it does not stop there if the trouble is allowed to run on. The contracting of a cold is generally the commencement of the unpleasant symptoms of ringing noises in the ears, nose stopped up, mucus dropping back into the throat, hawking and spitting, etc. The inner skin or mucous membrane of the body becomes inflamed and secretes a thick, yellowish matter which is absorbed into the blood, a dangerous blood disease. Every day that these poisonous secretions, and as through the lungs they become disease Consumptions. Sprays, washes, inhalations, good, because they do not reach the trouble is to prevent this from bottoming trace of fresher blood system, Catarrh is driven out and a last branes and tissues heal, the secretions system renovated and put in good condition for free book which contains valuable information for any special medical advice you desire.

GIRL SCARES CROOK AWAY

Would-Be Robber Enters Home of Arthur Renton and Rouses the Household.

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—A would-be robber who had entered the home of Arthur Renton at 2407 Bowditch street shortly after 3 o'clock this morning, was scared away by the screams of Miss Katherine Renton, who had been the maid of honor at the wedding of her sister in their house the preceding evening. Last night in the parlour of the Renton home, beneath a bower of pink roses and smilax, Gertrude Renton became the bride of Percy T. Hannigan. Dr. John Hemphill of San Francisco was the officiating clergyman. After the ceremony had been performed and the bride and groom had departed for the south on their honeymoon, the guests took to dancing, which was continued until a late hour. After all had departed, however, the usual precautions were neglected, and the front door was left unlocked. At 3 a. m. Miss Katherine Renton awoke from her sleep to hear the steps of a man walking in the as two Chinese women interpreters. All the houses where Chinese women are kept were visited and each inmate asked if she was restrained from her liberty, and if she desired to leave the place.

One young girl, Sun Lean, an inmate of the house at 366 Second street, desired to be released and she was given into the care of the missionaries. In the house at 312 Second street, conducted by Woon Ho, a four-year-old child was found and she was given into Miss Cameron's charge. There were the only two who were taken in charge by the police, who met with but little opposition.

GUARDS PLACED. As each house was visited the remainder were guarded by policemen. In order that the news of the investigation might not spread and allow any opposition to arise.

Captain of Police Peterson said: "We are not going to allow any slave trade to exist in this city. Rumors that such a traffic was being carried on reached us and Chief Wilson ordered an investigation. Today we found but two instances of where restraint was being used."

An investigation of the Japanese quarters in this city was made some time ago, but no slaves were found.

STRIKES COUNCILMAN.

Finding Thomas Henderson in his yard last night when he returned home, Councilman E. C. Hahn ousted him from the place. Henderson became belligerent and struck Hahn, who had him arrested on a charge of battery. Henderson appeared in department one of the Police Court this morning, but his case was continued until tomorrow for the filing of a complaint.

WILL BE A LONG SESSION

Legislature Has Much Business to Transact at This Session.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—Even at this early day in the session, members of both houses are speculating as to how long the legislature will be in transacting its business. Some of the older ones say they would not be surprised if eighty days would elapse before adjournment will be reached. Senator Caminetti who has had considerable experience in legislative halls says he believes that the session cannot close before the 20th of March. He bases this belief on the lack of accommodations and the delay which must be experienced in every part of the work.

SOLDIER DEFENDS SOLDIER.

One of the bills which will be introduced by Senator Bates of Alameda will be to reimburse Major William P. Humphreys of the National Guard for defending a military man named Steinman for the alleged murder of a politician named Meyers. Humphreys was one of two men who were shot and killed by militiamen during the excitement following the destruction of San Francisco. The other accused soldier was named Eichel. Eichel was discharged. Steinman went to trial was defended by Humphreys and was acquitted.

Humphreys being a member of the National Guard was ordered by the adjutant general to defend his brother-in-law, Eichel, and expected to receive a major's pay which is $6.94 a day. However, Humphreys was engaged three months on the case, and owing to the shortage returned to his pay only $300 instead of $647. The bill for his relief will accordingly be for $347.

FOURTEEN YEARS AN ATTACHE.

L. J. Smith, San Francisco, who has been appointed attaché of the Assembly, is one of the characters of the legislature. He is the essence of good nature and has a capacity for work which is excelled by no person connected with either house. He has been attaché of the legislature for one year, and during the past year he has been commencing his legislative career as a legislator. The work of his clerk requires him to be in the city and country and both of these Smith possesses in an extraordinary degree.

FLOWERS FOR LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR.

The first appearance of Lieutenant Governor Foster is providing officer of the Senate was realized by the placing on his desk a bouquet of flowers. The bouquet was a floral masterpiece. This device stood on one side of the desk while the other side was set off by a beautiful cluster of red carnations with a shading of blue. The bouquet was a rich wine color. Both floral pieces enhanced the scene and applied to the artistic taste of the members.

STANTON ASKED FOR NOTHING.

As many in Stanton of Los Angeles was busy today, receiving expressions of confidence from some of his brother members over the rumor that he had not been slated to succeed himself as chairman of the committee on ways and means. Of course, so far as the general run of members is concerned there is no anxiety that Stanton is not to get the position in question for the reason that the composition of the committee has not yet been announced by Speaker Porter. The impression on however obtains

MEET DEATH AT A CARD PARTY

Two Men Are Killed in Explosion of a Gas Plant in an Illinois Town.

WILMINGTON, Ill., Jan. 11.—F. H. Pope and Edward Schetner were instantly killed and a dozen persons were injured last night by the explosion of a gas plant in Woodman Hall in the progress of a card party. Among the most seriously injured is Father Dwyer, a Catholic priest.

"My Cake is Dough." Did not use Sperry's Flour.

That the chairmanship in question will go to Estadillo of Riverside. Speaking on the subject today to THE TRIBUNE correspondent Assemblyman Stanton said:

"I have not been 'turned down' as has been said, for the reason that I have asked for no appointment on any committee. I don't intend to ask for any appointment. Now, how could I be 'turned down'? It makes no difference to me whether I get a place or not. I had the chairmanship last year. I was a friend of Governor Pardee and I know what one may expect. I should be so-called as chairman if he should be appointed notwithstanding the rumors of his retirement. It will be time enough to cross that bridge when we come to it."

COMMITTEE ROOMS WANTED.

"We will have to go outside this building to get fifteen committee rooms," said Assistant Sergeant at Arms McCall of the Senate today, "and where we will find them will be another thing. This means that more expense must be incurred in addition to what the occupancy of the present building and the alteration of it for purposes of legislation have cost."

DRAWING JUSTICE JURORS.

Assemblyman Otto of Alameda will introduce a bill enabling jurors in Justice Courts to be selected in the same manner as in the Superior Court, that is, by having a list of names drawn by the justice and then having the jurors chosen from among them. This Otto feels would prevent policemen picking up business men needlessly on the street and compelling them to serve on juries greatly to the loss of their time. It would also prevent the drafting of professional jurors.

BURKE WILL BE ACTIVE

Will Have Charge of the Bills Regarding the Public Health.

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—Assemblyman John J. Burke of Oakland will have charge of the bill for the improvement of the health laws of this state, which will be introduced into the Assembly in the name of the State Board of Health. These bills have been carefully prepared by Dr. N. K. Foster, formerly of Oakland, whose home is now in this city, and who fills the position of secretary of the board in question.

Some of the measures are entirely new, but others are amendments even to amendments of the laws which were adopted at the last session of the legislature.

In the two years which have since elapsed, Secretary Foster, who has accomplished a great deal in systematizing the work of his office, has learned a great deal from experience in the working of the old laws as to what additional legislation is required for the purpose of more adequately protecting the people from sporadic disease and collecting and preserving vital statistics, which had not been done before the doctor's term of office.

BILLS IN HAND.

Among the bills which Assemblyman Burke has in hand are the following:

Prohibiting the contamination of water which is used for drinking purposes by animals or human beings.

Prohibiting the contamination of the atmosphere by the allowing of foul from slaughter houses and other places of that kind from accumulating.

Prescribing the duties and fixing the time and place of meeting of the State Board of Health.

Providing a uniform system for the registration of births, marriages and deaths.

Prohibiting expectoration in public places.

Providing for the issuance of blanks for recording deaths and having the same printed by the State Printer.

Fixing the compensation of health officers appointed by Boards of Supervisors.

Establishing rules for boards of health in the making of inspections.

HAS SOMETHING TO DO.

In this connection, it may be stated that the report of the Board of Health as prepared by Secretary Foster, is now before both houses of the legislature. It shows, among other things, that the organization is no longer an advisory board with simply the privilege of offering suggestions, but that it has now defined lines of work which it is required to perform.

VITAL STATISTICS.

It is gratifying to see reference made to the fact that the new Bureau of Vital Statistics, which was established under legislation of two years ago, has attained a degree of perfection which warrants the State Board of Health in accepting its statistics for the Census Bureau's work and in admitting California as a registration state. The registration is a distinction attained by but few of the Eastern States.

The State has been divided into districts and the causes of death have been tabulated in each district so that it is possible to tell where certain diseases prevail, which will be of value as soon as the data have been carried far enough to reason from cause to effect.

TUBERCULOSIS.

More deadly than all other diseases, tuberculosis which Dr. Foster says is preventable, has caused one death in each seven deaths in the State throughout the year. The doctor asserts that the high death rate of California is not normal, but is the result of so many people coming here from other States seeking the advantages of this climate, but settling it too late dying in the first few weeks of their residence here.

DEAF AND BLIND AT BERKELEY.

Regarding the condition of the Institution for the Deaf and the Blind at Berkeley, the doctor says:

"For cleanliness and order this institution can not be beaten anywhere, and from a sanitary standpoint no suggestions are needed. A septic tank to destroy the drainage from the stable is being considered, and if successful will remove the worst feature of the place. The dairy building is one of the best in the State, and by the installation of cement feed boxes, which could be flushed clean daily, would be about perfect."

BLIND HOME AT OAKLAND.

The doctor draws the following hard picture of the Industrial Home for the Blind in Oakland:

"This is perhaps as poorly equipped as any of the State institutions. The buildings are old and overcrowded and the plumbing is very unsatisfactory. The main part of room, some of the inmates are obliged to sleep in halls that are almost without light and ventilation. While light is unnecessary for the blind in the matter of vision, it is absolutely necessary for health in that every sleeping apartment have a goodly amount of sunlight. These halls have practically none. That the institution has little sickness among its inmates and no syphilitic diseases, speaks exceedingly well for its management. For the time may come when even good management and care can not offset the want of nature's purifiers and disinfectants—air and light."

Pennsylvania shares sold down four points from yesterday's close under enormous unloading.

St. Paul, Atchison, Northern Pacific and Baltimore & Ohio were the most acutely affected of the stocks in the general list.

The sharpness of the break invited profit-taking by bears and supporting orders were put into the market also as a protective measure by inside interests. The result was a substantial rally in the course of the first hour. Trading then became quieter.

What if a voice from a star should wake us in the night?

BANKS TO HAVE NEW QUARTERS

Eight-Story Building Plan for the Berkeley National and Savings Institutions.

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—Because of the large increase in business, the Berkeley National Bank and the University Bank of Savings are considering the advisability of tearing down the building in which these two institutions are at present located and erecting a modern eight-story office building, which will rival in its appointments other similar structures. That such a building will eventually be erected by these allied banking institutions is now practically certain, but the directors are hesitating whether to take the step now or add to the bank space by taking over that portion of the ground floor now occupied by Russell's cigar store, on Shattuck avenue. The cigar store was recently refused a long lease, so that the bank is free to take over its quarters at short notice. Benjamin Bangs, the vice-president of the two banks, said last night: "When we do make up our minds to erect a new building, we will put up nothing less than an eight-story structure. I believe that the growing demand for offices would warrant such a building. The project is merely tentative as yet and we have come to no agreement on plans except as to the height and the quality of the building. Nothing except a business block, up to date in every respect, shall take the place of the present bank building."

TEACHERS ARE WANTED BADLY

Positions in Philippines to Be Filled by Civil Service Commission.

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—The United States Civil Service Commission announces examinations on January 25 and 26, 1920, to secure eligibles from which to appoint clerks and teachers in the Philippine service. But they both had a good time, and that is what they had come to get.

KIDNAPED GIRL NOW IS SAFE

Schooner Rover, Bearing Dora Bennis, Arrived at San Pedro Harbor.

SAN PEDRO, Jan. 11.—The mystery of the disappearance several weeks ago of Dora Bennis, the fourteen-year-old San Diego girl, who was alleged by her father to have been kidnaped by Captain Hall on the schooner Rover, was solved when the Rover came into San Pedro Bay and dropped anchor. The girl was up board and unharmed. With her was James Howerton and wife and Captain Leslie. The latter said he had marooned Captain Hall on the lonely Southern California coast at Manuella Laguna, where the latter was found several weeks ago. He did not explain why he had marooned Hall. Hall is now held at Ensenada, Mexico, awaiting extradition on the charge of kidnaping.

The people on the Rover were greatly surprised at the apprehension over their absence, but were reticent in explaining details.

PURE MILK IS NOW DEMANDED

Campaign About to Be Reopened by the Health Officer in Berkeley.

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—A campaign for pure milk is about to be re-opened by Health Officer George Reinhardt. Ever since the dairymen of Berkeley obtained a permanent injunction in the Superior Court restraining the Health Officer from enforcing the ordinance regulating the dairies, Dr. Reinhardt has been looking up the best Eastern ordinances—laws that have been dictated by the latest discoveries in sanitation and with a view to safeguarding in every possible manner the public health—and the provisions have been incorporated in an ordinance that has been drawn up and will shortly be presented to the Trustees for passage.

Into this ordinance Dr. Reinhardt has put many of his own ideas on the subject of sanitation and milk regulation and has been assisted in the work by Dr. Ward, the State Bacteriologist at the University. The ordinance is complete in every detail and its enforcement will mean that the residences of Berkeley will be supplied with good, wholesome milk that will not carry with it possible typhoid or tuberculosis.

Dr. Reinhardt today placed the ordinance in the hands of City Attorney Johnson, so that the attorney may see that none of the defects that made the former ordinance ineffectual are repeated in the new statute. As soon as the ordinance is passed, it will be submitted to the Trustees and their favorable action will be asked.

There is no doubt that the ordinance will be passed by the Trustees as it is in sympathy with the Health Officer's attempt to secure an absolutely pure milk supply for Berkeley. The ordinance will be back up the enforcement of the former law, but unfortunate defects in the ordinance have allowed the dairymen to get an injunction that relieved them from the necessity of carrying out the sanitary regulations.

IRRIGATION TO BE DISCUSSED

Trans-Missouri Dry Congress to Meet Soon at Denver, Colorado.

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—Notice has been received at the University of the meeting of the Trans-Missouri Dry Farming Congress, to be held in Denver, January 24 and 25, at the call of Governor Jesse A. McDonald. Delegates are expected from practically every State west of the Missouri river.

This movement is considered a very important one. It is stated that nine acres of farm land of every ten in the whole country west of the ninety-eighth meridian can never be irrigated, and because of slight rainfall most of this great territory must look for its sustenance to some method of scientific agriculture. Within the last decade the support of the so-called Campbell system, more commonly known as "dry farming," has convinced the thinking men of the country that in some such method as this lies the agricultural salvation of the west, and it is now proposed to start an unprejudiced movement, in which every State affected shall take part, further to develop these soil culture systems and bring them to the attention of the world at large.

And the purpose of the congress which will meet in Denver this month is, first of all, to form a permanent, educational interstate organization somewhat on the line of the National Irrigation congress; and, second, to afford a full and free discussion of the principles of scientific soil culture and of their development in the west. It is expected that Secretary Wilson of the United States Department of Agriculture will be present and other speakers, both from Washington and from the agricultural states west of the Missouri, are sure to be in attendance in large numbers.

Ex-Governor Pardee appointed as delegate to the congress from California Professor Samuel Fortier of Berkeley.

TRYING TO FIND LOST IRISHMAN

Berkeley Police Looking for Patrick Molloy, Who Has Disappeared.

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—A question that is now puzzling the local police is the whereabouts of Patrick Molloy. Forty years ago, Patrick Molloy left the family home in Belfast, Ireland, and came to America. He landed at Castle Garden in New York, lived in the metropolis a few months and then moved further West. He wrote to the folks at home and at not infrequent intervals sent part of his earnings. For he was more prosperous than they.

He moved still further West, and each time he moved he wrote to his parents and to his brother and sisters in Ireland. He came as far as San Francisco and lived there several years. Then he came to Berkeley. He wrote from there several times, and then his letters ceased. The last received was seven years ago. For a long time the family waited for news of the missing son and brother, but none has ever been heard.

So Andrew Molloy, a brother of Patrick Molloy, has written to Francis M. Allister, Berkeley, asking him to find Patrick. Andrew Molloy's address is Woodstock Road, Belfast, Ireland. It is earnestly hoped that any one who knows Patrick Molloy's whereabouts will write to this address, telling Andrew Molloy where his brother has been seen.

JOHN D. PLAYS GOLF ON WHEEL

Billionaire Rides From Shot to Shot—Has Three Attendants.

John D. Rockefeller plays golf from a wheel, riding from shot to shot. He has three boy attendants; not that he needs so many, but his system seems a natural result of his ingrained sense of personal economy. This economic theory is well sustained in the case of Willie White, another part of the motive power for the wheel, running behind and pushing as they move over the soft sod. Another boy carries a bag of golf clubs and a third comes with a basket containing golf balls, chalk and extra gloves.

In playing golf Mr. Rockefeller wears a light gray flannel suit, Norfolk jacket, thin flannel shirt, tan belt, no collar, trousers creased and turned up at the bottom, tan golf boots with cork soles, and a skeleton hat with umbrella top. One man called it a "turtle back."

He wore regulation golf gloves. His hands are not so rough as they were when as a boy he worked on a farm, as he himself remarked.

When preparing for a shot, Willie's position is directly behind Mr. Rockefeller, holding the wheel. When a club goes back Willie is ready with these words: "Don't look up." The shot is generally a true one, and straight—not far, but pretty regularly 100 to 125 yards. At one time he contracted a habit of raising his foot while making a stroke.

To correct this Willie's duties increased. Until that foot could be properly trained Mr. Rockefeller had Willie spike his foot to the ground for each shot. A common cricket wicket was used. How can you stop a man with such infinite patience and interest?

The man is only sixty-seven, and a young man at that. Mortality tables prove a man of sixty-seven has ten years to live. Baring accident, this man will live twenty, perhaps twenty-five years.

PAT WASN'T NUMBERED. Patrick, lately over, was working in the yards of a railroad. One day he happened to be in the yard office when the force was out. The telephone bell rang excitedly for some time before Pat came to the conclusion that it ought to be answered. He approached the instrument very cautiously, and slowly put the transmitter to his mouth, as he had seen the boss often do.

"Hello, there!" he called. "Hello!" answered some one at some distant place. "Is this six-eight-eight-four-eight?" "Aw, gwan! That's the thing! Pat, a box car!" sarcastically replied Pat. Judge's Library.

NEW STATION NOT SO BAD

Carpenters Begin to Improve Structure Which Is Left to Ashbyites.

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—The people at Ashby station at first thought they were being duped when the Key Route road brought a new station in the dead of night—brought it to them already built, and dumped it off the train like a trunk. In the first place, it was too good; in the second place, it was not in line with the street, but sat bias-wise across the corner of the lot; in the third place, there was mud all around it. The new station is the color of a lemon; and the Ashbyites said they had been "pumped a lemon" by the railroad company.

But now it appears that the new passenger station is going to fulfill expectations. A force of carpenters arrived early this morning, and started in to make the necessary improvements.

NO LIGHT ON PAPER PROJECT

Alamedans in Dark Regarding Publication of New Daily Newspaper.

ALAMEDA, Jan. 11.—Alamedans learned yesterday for the first time that another newspaper is to be started in this city, when articles of incorporation were filed in Oakland.

It is understood that F. S. Cone, who served for four years as justice of the peace, and who received the nomination of the Union Labor party at its convention last year for the same office, but later withdrew from the contest, is financing the deal.

It was stated this morning that the new paper would have its office in the Contra Costa Water Company building, but the manager of the company here would give no information on this subject.

The Tale of a Pail

Women are creatures of habit. They form the habit of doing a certain thing and often continue it after improvements have been made. Take shortening for instance. The old-time way was to purchase bulk lard, in a barrel or tub, which the grocer uncovered as soon as received, leaving it open to dirt, dust and flies, exposing it in some cases to the sun with the possibility of its becoming rancid, and permitting it to be placed where it would be likely to absorb the odor of cod-fish, soap or kerosene oil. This is an old-fashioned, out-of-date method of buying shortening, but many people still continue it. We wonder why? Probably, just a matter of habit.

There is a better way. Cottoleene is not only superior to lard as a shortening, from the fact that it is a vegetable, and cleanly product, while lard is made from greasy, indigestible hog-fat, but Cottoleene reaches the consumer in the same condition it was on the day we manufactured it.

If cleanliness, healthfulness, economy and superiority count for anything there is no excuse for any housewife in the land using other than Cottoleene for shortening and frying. You owe it to yourself and family, as a careful housewife, to give Cottoleene a test, and verify the claims we make for it.

Any one who expects to live his allotted three score years and ten cannot afford to experiment with lard cooked food. It is a foe to good digestion and a healthful condition of the stomach—Cottoleene is the only satisfactory and perfect shortening.

COTTOLENE was granted a GRAND PRIZE (highest possible award) over all other cooking fats at the recent Louisiana Purchase Exposition, and food cooked with COTTOLENE another GRAND PRIZE.

"Home Helps" a book of 300 choice recipes, edited by Mrs. Rorer, is yours for a 2 cent stamp, if you address The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago.

A NEW FEATURE—The patent airtight top on this pail is for the purpose of keeping COTTOLENE clean, fresh and wholesome; it also prevents it from absorbing all disagreeable odors of the grocery, such as fish, oil, etc.

ANNA GOULD MUST PAY FOR GEMS SINGER SOLD

Mlle. Vera Nimidoff Wins Suit to Recover $24,000 for Jewels Count Boni Bought.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Three remaining held jointly liable for jewels valued at suits brought by creditors seeking to make Madame Anna Gould jointly responsible with her former husband, Count Boni de Castellane, have just been decided.

A verdict entirely in her favor was rendered against M. Zeigler, one of the largest creditors, who claims that the Castellanes, ever since their marriage, appealed to him to extricate them from financial difficulties.

Madame Anna Gould was, however, rendered jointly liable for the sum of about $27,000, the balance due to the Hartogs for a jewelry bill amounting to about $137,000, provided the bill was not paid.

Three experts were appointed to appraise the value of the jewelry.

BITE OF STRAY DOG FATAL TO WOMAN WHO WAS KIND

Terrier Bit His Benefactress in the Ankle and Hydrophobia Ended Her Life.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Mrs. Charles Weeks, sixty, of New Rochelle, died at her home yesterday from hydrophobia. She was bitten on the right ankle three weeks ago by a small fox terrier that her husband found in the street and which seemed so playful that he allowed it to follow him home. Mrs. Weeks became attached to the dog, which romped about the house and did funny tricks.

On the day it bit her she was playing with it and it became excited. The dog exhibited no signs of rabies, and none of the family thought anything of the incident. Mrs. Weeks passed it without a second thought, as the dog's teeth had scarcely pierced her skin. Four days ago she was taken ill, and Dr. Raymond was called in. From the first she exhibited symptoms of rabies and every effort was made to stay the progress of the disease. She became violent and had to be held in bed. Her death occurred in the evening, following severe suffering and nervous exhaustion.

The dog was still about last night, and the S. P. C. A. ordered that the animal be caught and killed. Its brain will be examined.

GUARD SEES PAIR KILL THEMSELVES IN PRISON

Visitor Suddenly Gives Woman Carbolic Acid and Then Drinks Some Himself.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Although a guard was standing close beside him, Frank Delaney, a railroad man, succeeded in a bold attempt to end his life and the life of a woman, who occupied a cell in the woman's dormitory of the Elmira county jail. The woman was Bessie Wells, awaiting sentence for abducting a young girl.

Delaney possessed a power of attorney for the woman, and when he called at the jail and stated that he wished to consult her regarding the signing of important papers, there was no objection by the warden, who sent a guard with him.

The guard stood by while the pair conversed. Suddenly Delaney produced a bottle of carbolic acid and passed it through the bars. The woman seized it and swallowed the contents.

Instantly Delaney pressed a second bottle to his own lips. The guard sprang upon him, but the man fought him fiercely for a moment, and then collapsed. He died before a physician could be called. The woman died within a short time.

SOCIETY LEADER GIVES DINNER TO TWO PIGS

Human Guests Are Obligated to Bring Pet Animals to Annual Affair in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Minnie Fiske-Griffin, one of the fashionables of the Lake Shore district, has outdistanced the unique eccentricities of Mr. Harry Lehr as a banquet-giver. She has entertained pigs at dinner. They were pigs of the four-footed variety. The pigs whose ancestry is unimpeachable—dating back to a pork nobility—that included no peckers in its collateral branches, were among the guests of honor at a dinner, where only the humans were the people of no importance. Mrs. Griffin's magnificent home, at No. 714 Foster street, was exquisitely decorated for the occasion, and the daintily spread table, with its silver and delicate china, was laid for twenty.

Ten of the guests were a pink-nosed pig attired in a large blue bow; a brown-and-white guinea pig, wearing a smile; a game cock of high degree whose occasional remarks were loudly applauded; a pink-eyed rabbit with a powder-puff tail; a pouter pigeon that chatted all evening; a chameleon; a Boston terrier, a white Angora cat and a gray squirrel.

When Mrs. Griffin's invitations were sent out, each of the recipients was notified that none would be admitted unless escorted by a pet animal. Carriages and automobiles deposited Fashion's Zoo at the door and introductions were made in the great reception hall. Here everybody exhibited the most delightful manners till the Boston bull and the lady angora were presented. The Montague and Capulet feuds in the two families overcame all claims of elegance, and for a time Mrs. Griffin's brio-a-brac seemed doomed. When the pair were separated the bull's bloody nose and the angora's missing locks testified to the earnestness of their mutual regard.

LEMONS HANDED OUT AS DANCE FAVORS

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Elisha Dyer, Jr., Harry Lehr, Worthington Whitehouse and the other renowned cotillion leaders of America didn't think of it.

Artemas Holmes did.

He is the youngest son of Mrs. Artemas Holmes of 453 Madison avenue, who gave a domino dance and cotillion for her daughter. Young Holmes led the cotillion.

At a given signal and under the leadership of Mr. Holmes the young girls sallied forth with baskets of fruit. The baskets contained both lemons and peaches. To the men whom they fancied they distributed peaches. To the men who it was believed would appreciate a joke lemons were handed. The 150 guests roared with mirth over Mr. Holmes' adaptation of the popular slang.

It was a pretty sight when the young girls, in fancy dresses, sallied forth with their rustic baskets bulging with hothouse peaches and plain "three-for-five" Messina lemons. The guests went away all guarding the secret of who received the lemons.

GARDEN HOSE A GOOD WEAPON

Philadelphia Woman's Spray Injunction Against Telephone Company.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—An impromptu shower bath, effectively administered by Mrs. Rigby with a garden hose, served as a temporary injunction against employees of the telephone company, who suddenly insisted on marring her pretty garden plot with a big, ungainly looking telephone pole.

For defense Mrs. Rigby wagers a garden hose to umbrellas and bathtubs.

Mrs. Rigby glanced out of the window of her handsome home at 3417 Avenue L, Flatbush, and saw men digging up her yard. She rushed to the door and demanded what they intended to do, for they had dug a hole nearly big enough for a grave.

"When they would not answer me," said Mrs. Rigby, "I ordered them to call a foreman. I waited then so long for him to show up that the job was nearly finished. Then I just decided to turn the hose on those men."

When the water struck the men they all rushed to obey Mrs. Rigby's command to find the foreman, thereby getting from under the icy deluge. The foreman then braved the hose and begged mercy.

"Then they sent a man to ask my permission," said Mrs. Rigby. "He explained that if I did not let the work go on none of my neighbors could have telephones. Finally I consented. But I don't see why they don't put these wires underground instead of disfiguring one's grounds with unsightly poles that give them a resemblance to a railroad yard."

WIFE'S DEBT A KISS, BUT HUSBAND PAID

CALCUTTA, India, Jan. 10.—From up country there comes a story of the discomfiture of a distinguished soldier. It happened at a big dinner, where he had taken in a pretty American globe trotter, who asked him to pass a dish of almonds and raisins.

"With pleasure," replied the gallant son of Mars. "But do you know that what you have asked for is called in the vernacular kismis and that the penalty of a kiss attaches to the request?"

"Is that so?" answered the woman calmly. "I must consult my husband," and she called across the table to him and told him of the request.

"Quite so," he replied, "according to the custom of the country it is a just debt and must be paid, but is the general aware of the arrangement made when we married that I must settle all my wife's liabilities?"

MOTHER IS SLAIN; CHILDREN SLEEP ON.

Husband Finds Wife Stabbed to Death in Bed; Probably Work of Madman.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The body of Mrs. William Wilson, wife of a livery stable keeper, was found in her home in Wallington, a suburb of Havonack, early today. The body was covered with stab wounds. A few feet away was a cot in which the woman's two young children slept, innocent of the horrible tragedy that was enacted in the same room.

The murder was discovered by the husband, who returned home at daylight, after working all night. Although most frantic with grief, he at once notified the police, who so far have been unsuccessful in obtaining the slightest clue to the identity of the murderer.

The mutilation of the body and the fact that robbery was apparently not the motive for the murder has occasioned belief by the police that the act was that of a madman. Being the stab wounds, it was found that the woman had been strangled by a powerful hand and her hair torn from her head in the struggle.

Wilson, who is almost out of his mind with grief, cannot give the police any information which would help them to solve the mystery.

BRIDE IS KISSED BY 400 GUESTS

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10.—Immediately after Miss Leda Nieman of 1415 North Fourteenth street, became the bride of Jacob Glaser, last night, she had to give away four hundred kisses. The ceremony took place at Druids Hall, and was according to the old Jewish custom.

As soon as the minister had finished saying the words which married the two young persons, the four hundred guests swarmed toward the altar. The newly-made husband barely had time to take the first kiss before his bride was being saluted osculatorially by another young man—young and old, little and big—everybody got his or her kiss. When the exercise was through the bride was nearly exhausted, but beamingly declared that if there were any person who had not received his due, she stood ready to see that the omission was corrected.

Both bride and bridegroom fasted for twenty-four hours preceding the wedding.

To celebrate the breaking of their fast they drank of the nuptial wine, a wedding present—and dashed the glasses to the floor, where they were broken into a thousand pieces.

Wash the hands in vinegar after having them in soap and they will be soft and white and not chapped.

MARRIES AGAIN; ENDS HIS LIFE

After Ten Years Man Deserts Wife to Wed Neighbor—Both Accuse Him.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11.—Edward A. Eaton left his wife, with whom he had lived for ten years, and two hours later was married to Mrs. Nellie Kelley, who lived within a few feet of his home.

After the ceremony his new bride went with him to look at the house he had promised they should have for their home, and prepared to move in.

In the newspapers the license was recorded, and both women saw it. This morning Eaton's dead body was found in a lumber yard near his home. He had taken poison.

Eaton was charged by Mrs. Kelley with having two wives. He denied that his real wife accused him, and he thought it time to quit this life.

FORTUNES IN SABLES WORN BY ROYALTY

The two most expensive sable coats in the world are worn by the Empress of Russia and Queen Maud of Norway.

The Empress' coat is made from pure sables, the best which could be obtained in Europe, and is valued by an expert in furs at anything between $250,000 and $400,000, while that which Queen Maud wore at the guildhall on Wednesday would be worth nearly half as much.

The manager of a Regent street firm said that within the last two years the price of sable had increased by 75 per cent and was still going up.

"The price is practically prohibitive," he said, "and we have to find a substitute in top Russian sable, smart sets of which cost as much as $1000. If the same were made in real sable the price would be about $7500 or more."

"There is as much gambling in sables as there is on the stock exchange. The furs have all sold out and the demand is still great. People are now beginning to pass sables down as heritages—and valuable they are, too, at $450 a skin."

MOTHER SEES HER SON KILLED IN FOOTBALL GAME

Faints as Child Is Carried Dying Into Home by Group of His Little Playmates.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—"You stay by the window, mamma, and watch us beat those other fellows," said sturdy little "Dick" Battersby to his mother. He gave her a kiss and ran gayly to the street to join his companions.

The Battersbys live at 415 Henderson street, Jersey City. There is a vacant lot opposite. "Dick" was captain of the Terrors, who had challenged the Plungers to a game at football.

The mother sat where she could see the youngsters. Dick was 10 years old. Much to the concern of his parents, he had an ambition to become a football hero. Young Battersby was a natural leader, having been chosen captain of the Terrors over youths several years his senior. He was vigorous and had never had a sick day.

Dick was almost heartbroken when on Christmas day the fine new football that Mrs. Hoffman, who keeps a store at 630 Grove street, had offered to the one drawing the lucky number was won by Captain Leo Burde of the rival Plungers. All the pennies Dick and the other members of his team had been spent in buying "chances" for the football.

After enduring the spectacle of the Plungers kicking the new ball around, Captain Battersby challenged them to play for the ball. The game proceeded in rather an orderly fashion. The boys range in age from 10 to 13 years.

Although the captain of the Terrors played with much skill and was himself everywhere in the thick of the fray, the battle went against him from the beginning. When the second half was started Captain Battersby had been in several hard scrimmages and his stout little body had received rather hard usage. Mrs. Battersby from her window called to the boys not to play so roughly. She was answered with a chorus of "Yes, ma'ma."

"Dick" kicked off for his side. The ball went into the street and was brought back. Then the little fellow gathered all his strength for a kick that would send the pigskin far into the enemy's territory. He made a supreme effort, but did not join the other boys in the chase after the speeding ball. Instead he sank down upon the frozen ground. Mrs. Battersby saw her son fall. For the moment she thought it was a prank upon his part.

"Get up, Dick; don't be a baby!" shouted one of the players. When he did not move, several ran up to him. "I've got an awful pain in my side," fellers," gasped Dick. Then he rolled over in agony several times. All of the boys were frightened and some of them started to run away. Two of the older ones, Mullen and O'Keefe, picked Dick up and carried him across the street to his home. As they were taking him up the stairs he died.

When the boys struggled into the room with their burden Mrs. Battersby screamed in terror. She bent over the body and when she saw that Dick was dead she fainted. She was revived by neighbors.

TRIED TO PICK A ROSE; THE THORNS STUNG HIM

Pretty Jersey Flower's Chum Played Cruel Hoax on Advertiser for a Bride.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—"Back to Buffalo for you," angrily said Recorder Heller at Caldwell, N. J., to Henry Domenyl last night. "I banish you from Caldwell. If there was not a certain excuse for you I should punish you severely."

The "certain excuse," blushing with shame and anger, was in the Recorder's office with her mother, Miss Rose Ellis, seventeen years old, extremely pretty, was a very good excuse, indeed, under all circumstances. So Domenyl, who is young and impressionable, escaped with punishment not too severe.

Some one sent a matrimonial newspaper to Miss Sophie Galash, nineteen years old, and a friend of Miss Rose. Miss Sophie saw Domenyl's "ad." for a wife. So "to have some fun," she explains, she wrote him a perfect letter, signed it with Miss Rose's name and address and inclosed Miss Rose's photograph as per request. Domenyl studied the photograph—a good one—and took the first train from Buffalo.

Miss Rose answered a ring of her front door on Saturday morning. There stood Domenyl with her photograph in his hand. He looked at her, looked at the photograph, and then threw his arms around her and kissed her rapturously, crying:

"Dearest, I am here. I am yours." The next minute he was not there, for Miss Rose and her mother threw him out, protesting, waving the letter and the photograph in vain attempt at explanation. But soon Miss Sophie arrived and asked, demurely:

"Rose, have you heard from Buffalo?"

Then Miss Rose understood; the relations between Miss Rose and Miss Sophie are greatly strained. But Domenyl, having the letter and the photograph could not understand. Again, he returned to Miss Rose's home only to have the door slammed in his face.

BAREFOOT ACTRESS DANCED INTO COLLEGE MAN'S HEART

Chorus Girl's Pink Tootsie-Wootsies Won for Princeton Man a Charming Bride.

TRENTON, Jan. 11.—Surely Cupid was good to Harry F. Bibbins of Orange, a student at Princeton, and gave him a charming bride. Nor need she, who was Miss Edna May Chandler, of Newark, go barefoot again unless she wants to.

Not a creature was stirring in the house of Justice of the Peace Manfred Naar at 2 a. m. yesterday. Then the door bell rang as if the house was afire.

"We want to get married," cried Mr. Bibbins, when the justice stuck his head out of the front window.

Mrs. Naar and Miss Naar, arrayed in becoming white costumes, consented to be witnesses. And soon Miss Chandler was made Mrs. Bibbins.

Miss Chandler was a chorus girl in Van Barke's company, which appeared here last week. She was one of the barefoot dancers in the show. In that turn ten girls take off their shoes and stockings on the stage and execute fancy steps. Mr. Bibbins' bride was one of the most attractive of the ten, and her vivacity was much applauded.

Mr. Bibbins and Miss Chandler were neighbors when they were younger even than now, and he saw much of her. But when he saw her pink tootsie-wootsies he sought her at the stage door, told his love—again—and they were married.

TELEPHONE WAS BLOCKED BY OWL

PORT JERVIS, Jan. 10.—There was trouble on the Hudson River Telephone Company's line between Goshen and South Centerville Saturday and line-men were sent out to investigate. Just beyond Centerville in the town of Greenville the men found a big-horned owl on the wires.

Its wings were spread out and it was entangled in the wires, cutting off the circuit. In its talons was a rat, also dead, both having met death by electricity.

REALTY MEN DISSATISFIED

Will Form New Organization as Old One is Not Working Hard Enough.

About twenty of the real estate dealers of Oakland, many of whom represented new firms, met in the rooms of the M. T. Minney Co. on Wednesday night to consider plans for the reorganization of the present real estate association. All present expressed themselves as dissatisfied with the way the old organization is progressing, and feel that the members are not taking enough interest in it or in the welfare of Oakland. They feel that it is the realty dealers' right and privilege to get together and work together, and keep Oakland on the boom. It is their purpose to raise about $25,000 to be used in advertising Oakland in the East and elsewhere, and to take other active measures for promoting the general interests of the city.

It was decided, therefore, that before a new association was formed it would be better to consult the members of the executive board of the old association and ascertain whether the old association desired the new one to come in with it under the old name, or to let the old organization die and an entirely new one be formed, with the present members at the head of it. Action was postponed, therefore, until next week, when another meeting is to be held, the old board to be approached on the matter in the meantime.

As an evidence that the old association has permitted its organization to slumber into disuse it was declared at the meeting Tuesday night that the association had not held a meeting in a long time, and that when twelve members of the same attempted to represent it at the State Federation, only three were allowed to vote, the others having failed to keep their dues paid up.

War Ministry Selects Men Who Have Seen Service in the Field.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 11.—General Rennenkampf, commander of the Third Siberian Corps, has been appointed commander of the Third Army Corps. Major-General Kshutinski has been appointed commander of the Fourth Army Corps. General Plonscher succeeds General Rennenkampf in command of the Third Siberian Corps.

The appointments are in accordance with the new policy of the war ministry in selecting men of experience who have seen service in the field, instead of so-called "carpet knights" for high commands.

An imperial order has been published limiting the terms of service of members of the military council, which acts in an advisory capacity under the war ministry to four years. This is designed to rid the council of many supernumerary generals who have been enjoying well paid sinecures as members of that body.

ROOSEVELT ACCUSED BY ELLA RAWLS READER

Woman Says President and William Nelson
Cromwell Caused the Indictment of Husband for Perjury.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Ella Rawls Reader accuses President Roosevelt and William Nelson Cromwell of having caused the indictment of her husband for perjury in the suit he brought against J. B. Haggin to recover $250,000 alleged to be due him as commission on the sale of a Peruvian mining concession.

Mrs. Reader also in the course of an interview told how she threw away a chance to marry a title and decided to marry for love, as related by her husband in one of the letters, the production of which in court brought about the dismissal of the suit and his own indictment.

"Yes, it is perfectly true that I could have married a title," said Mrs. Reader. "But instead of marrying a title I happened to prefer the man I loved. However, at the time my husband wrote the letter that has appeared in the newspapers we had not been married five years. In fact, our wedding had just taken place, and so, perhaps, his enthusiasm led him to go further than he would have."

LOVE AT FIRST SIGHT.

"As I say, we had just been married and my husband had heard all sorts of flattering reports about me. A young man—the son of a New York banker—had filled him up with all sorts of yarns about my conquests of hearts, both on this side and the other, and, of course, Mr. Reader was ready to believe them all at that time."

The fact is, I was about to marry another man when I chanced to meet Mr. Reader. All of my trousseau was ready, and the marriage was to have taken place in a few days, but with Mr. Reader and myself, I guess it was a case of love on sight.

Three days after our first meeting he proposed to me and within a fortnight we were married. Within a week he was on his way to Europe and I remained behind to take care of large interests in which we both happened to be concerned. He did not return for several months.

"Oh, no, I don't say that the man I tilted had a title—neither do I say that he did not. That is a matter of no importance at this time."

ACCUSES ROOSEVELT.

"But now about this indictment of my husband," continued Mrs. Reader. "Naturally that is uppermost in my mind at this time. And right at the start I want to say that it was brought about by the scheming of two men, and there is no longer any reason why I should keep their names from the public. It was inspired by William Nelson Cromwell and his friend and adviser, President Roosevelt.

"Oh, you can get denials of all that I am about to disclose. You can get them almost anywhere from New York to Washington, but the plotters need not think that Ella Rawls Reader is afraid of any of them, or that she hesitates to give the facts to the public. The time is coming when they will all come out and it will furnish some interesting reading matter."

"Cromwell knew all about this plot to indict my husband. He was one of the chief figures in it. He spent five hours closeted with District Attorney Jerome last month just after the trick was played in court by which John B. Stanchfield succeeded in getting Mr. Reader's suit for $250,000 against J. B. Haggin knocked out."

Mr. Cromwell is now on the way to Europe. He has denied the charges of Mrs. Reader time and again.

The action of the Mississippi court in sentencing Mrs. Angie Birdsong, whose picture is here printed, to five years at hard labor in state's prison for killing Doctor Thomas Butler, her traducer, has aroused great interest throughout the country. United States Senator McLaurin, uncle of Mrs. Birdsong, has served notice of appeal and the case is by no means ended.

KILLS HERSELF BEFORE MIRROR

Actress Dolly Theobald, Jealous of Her Husband, Ends Her Life.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 11.—Believing her husband unfaithful, Mrs. Howard Powers, aged thirty, an actress, shot herself through the heart at the Star Hotel and died instantly. On the stage she was known as Dolly Theobald. In the play she was a comedienne, but her career ended in tragedy. Standing before a mirror, she directed the murre of a deringer pistol, heavy caliber, against her bosom, selecting the vital spot with cool deliberation. She was dead when the door was forced by those who heard the sound of the shot. During the afternoon she quarreled with her husband, who is the stage manager of the company, but as she was of a jealous tendency not much attention was paid to it. Her fellow-players say that there was no foundation for her jealousy and they are disposed to believe that she was mentally afflicted. Six years ago her mother and sister were destroyed by the explosion of a gas stove at Lexington, Ky., which was her home, and it is believed that this gradually broke down her reason. Her family is a good one and her sister, Miss Laura Theobald, is head nurse at the Louisville, Ky., sanitarium.

DOG BITES MEN

SCOBETVILLE, N. J., Jan. 11.—A mad dog has caused much excitement here. It made its first appearance in Riordan's hen roost, and the noise of the scared fowls attracted Riordan, who tried to drive the dog away. The animal, frothing at the mouth, rushed at the farmer, and before he could get rid of it had bitten him several times on the legs. The dog then ran to Frank Johnson's farm and bit Johnson and a hired man, named O'Connor. Running down the road toward Colt's Neck, the animal was shot by Martin Rafferty. It is said that many cows and dogs were bitten. The men who were bitten had their wounds cauterized.

KILLED AT DINNER

PRESTONSBURG, Ky., Jan. 11.—The dining-room of John D. Bagley, a Floyd county merchant, was turned into a slaughter house the other day. Bagley invited his brothers and sisters and the Allens, Samuel and John, and Cleve Fitzpatrick to dine with him. As dinner was being served Fitzpatrick, who was drinking, began a quarrel. The Bagleys and Allens had been in a feud for some time, but no killings had taken place, and it was the idea of the merchant to patch up the difficulties with a dinner. When the smoke cleared away, Bagley was dead, shot through the heart, and his brother, Joe, was dangerously wounded. Samuel Allen was shot in the face and hands, and John Allen had a scalp wound. Samuel Allen was a deputy sheriff.

SHOE TOO TIGHT

LITTLE CUPID HID IN A PHONOGRAPH

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—News-papers told yesterday how Grace E. Rover, a Brooklyn school teacher, traced her recalcitrant husband from the clue of hearing his tenor voice in a slot machine phonograph. Today the papers tell how Patrick J. Riche, of No. 323 Grand street, Jersey City, bought a phonograph record, and thereby won a charming bride. She was Catherine Margaret Sheridan, of No. 162 York street, Jersey City. They were married yesterday.

he was actually in love with nothing more tangible than a soprano voice. "Why, she lives just around the corner," cried the music dealer. "She came in here one day to buy a phonograph, and I asked her to sing that song. Glad it suits you. How would you like to meet her and hear her sing it?" Riche, of course, would be overjoyed. He met her, and she sang the song and several others, and after that the machine voice was the second love and the live voice the first. Riche sued for her hand. Yesterday Justice Frank P. Lehane, the marrying squire, performed the ceremony at the bride's home. The most priceless gift to the bride was from her husband and consisted of the phonograph record through which Cupid had flashed the first message.

OUR INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

Fire, Accident, Plate Glass, Automobile, Burglary, Employee, and Surety Bond of All Kinds.

The strongest argument we can offer in favor of this department is that every company represented by our Insurance Department was carefully selected upon its honorable dollar settlement with the sufferers of the great San Francisco fire. We pride ourselves upon the fact that we protect our clients and sell them only insurance that insures. The experience of the sufferers of the San Francisco fire who entrusted their insurance to agents not familiar or posted has caused untold loss, and in many cases, privation and suffering, and it is the WISE person who profits by the experience of others. A wise man may make a mistake, but a fool repeats it. Are you going to repeat this mistake? It will pay any one who carries a policy in no matter what company to call upon the manager of this department and let him examine your policy and see if there is a "joker" in same which may cause you a great deal of inconvenience in case of fire. We make no charge for this.

ADJUSTERS FOR THE ASSURED.

We also beg to say that we are adjusters for the assured in case of fire. In case of fire, phone us at once, and we will prepare your proof of loss and obtain a far more satisfactory and quicker settlement than would be possible by yourself. Our wide experience enables us to do this. Day phone, Oakland 553; night phone, Oakland 6054. Never closed. Always at your command.

DIOCESE DEEPLY MOURNS DEAD PRELATE ARCHBISHOP MONTGOMERY'S FUNERAL ON MONDAY WILL LIE IN STATE IN CATHEDRAL SATURDAY MORNING SERVICES AT ST. MARY'S

Bishop Conaty Will Preach Sermon—Archbishop Riordan Prostrated.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—The Most Reverend George Montgomery, Coadjutor of the Roman Catholic Arch-diocese of San Francisco, died in this city at 1:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The direct cause of death was an acute attack of diabetes, aggravated by a recent operation for appendicitis and the nervous shock which followed.

Archbishop Riordan is prostrated by the death of his coadjutor. He remained in seclusion yesterday, refusing to see anyone. The Reverend Father J. P. Frieden of the Order of Jesuits has also gone into retreat and will fulfill religious obligations for a period of three days.

The funeral will be held from St. Mary's Cathedral on Monday morning at 10 o'clock, when a solemn requiem mass for the repose of his soul will be celebrated by Bishop Grace of Sacramento. The sermon in the Cathedral will be preached by Bishop Conaty of Los Angeles and Monterey.

The body of the Archbishop will lie in state in the basement of the Cathedral until Saturday at 10 o'clock, when it will be removed to the church proper. While lying in state the body of the Archbishop will be guarded by delegations from the League of the Cross Cadets, the Young Men's Catholic Union, St. Vincent de Paul and German Catholic Union. This guard began at 10 o'clock last night.

These arrangements will enable the thousands of dead prelate's friends, which include men and women of all creeds and denominations, to view the remains. Archbishop Montgomery was one of the most popular prelates that has ever been stationed in San Francisco. He was known to the rich and poor, and the great sacrifices he made in the cause of temperance, especially among the young, endeared him to all right-thinking people, regardless of religious preference or teaching. The funeral will undoubtedly be one of the greatest and most impressive ever witnessed in the West.

OF SALVATION ARMY
Colonel George T. French of the

THE LATE ARCHBISHOP MONTGOMERY.

Salvation Army said last night: "I am very familiar with Archbishop Montgomery's work, and his death means a great loss to the city and the church."

"Archbishop Montgomery was a large and liberal-minded man, and, unfortunately for the church and State, his life was cut off at a time when his most earnest and important work was about to be accomplished. In following the work of the late archbishop, I find that he stood unquestionably for all that was elevating and for the best interests of his people. His attitude towards the work of our organization was a most friendly one, and we will keenly feel his loss. His death will result in a great loss to the forces of the Catholic church, and the untimely end of this great Christian spirit is to be sadly regretted."

GRIEF OF ST. PATRICK'S ALLIANCE OF AMERICA
At meeting of Oakland Alliance, St. Patrick's Alliance of America, held in Oakland last night, resolutions were passed expressing the deep regret and lasting grief the members felt on the death of Archbishop Montgomery. The meeting then adjourned out of respect to the archbishop.

did not know where he gathered the wherewith. He was always fairly well dressed, and though broke, his fine art of butting in for a drink at the right time never allowed him to be dry long at one time.

At one time after he had a severe hemorrhage, he called Cap Perry to his side, and said that if he died he wished Cap to write and tell his mother. Perry then copied the following address from his dictation: "Mrs. Bridget Brennan, 9 Dome Square, Dome Place, Yorkshire, Road, London, England, Great Britain, Europe." At the time mentioned he was in "Spider" Kelly's barroom when overtaken with a hemorrhage.

SHE MAY HAVE KILLED HERSELF

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Miss Nora Euler who disappeared from the home of her aunt, Mrs. Otto Negus, at Hammond, Ind., December 15, and for whom the police are searching, is still missing. It has transpired that a few days before she disappeared she told her aunt that she feared something was about to happen to her and she appeared to be deeply dejected.

Miss Euler left her home without saying anything to her aunt and has not been seen since. She is a blonde, 20 years old, and when she left home was wearing a green suit and hat.

Because of her melancholy temper, the police fear she committed suicide. Some of her relatives are of the opinion that she was slain or killed in an accident.

The search for the missing girl is led by Phil Yockler, 409 Sycamore street, Evansville, Ind.

HOW LINCOLN WON OVER JURY

The lawyer, whose honesty is proved, has the confidence of the judge and jury. Story of Abraham Lincoln is an illustration: he was appointed to defend one charged with murder. The crime was a brutal one, the accused a stranger. Feeling was high and against the friendless defendant. On the trial, Lincoln drew from the witnesses full statements of guilt, closed by saying that he had reflected much on the case, and while it seemed probable that defendant was guilty, he was not sure, and calling the jury straight in the face, asked: "Are you?" The defendant was acquitted, and afterward the real criminal was detected and punished. How different would have been the conduct of other lawyers? Some would have striven to lead the judge into technical errors with a view to appeal to a higher court. Others would have become hoarse in denunciation of witnesses, decrying the lack of positive testimony and the mere opinion of a reasonable doubt. The simple, straightforward way of Lincoln, backed by the confidence of the jury, won.

BUILDING AND LOAN FIGHT

Alameda Man Will Lead in Attack on Unjust Measure.

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—The effort to pass a bill governing building and loan associations, which failed at the session two years ago, will be made again this session. A lively fight is anticipated, and Assemblyman Frank Otis, of Alameda, who has been engaged in the business, will in all probability take an active part in the fray.

His participation and that of other members of the Alameda County delegation will depend upon the nature of the measures which will be proposed for consideration.

STORMY CLOSING DAYS.
The last days of the session of the Legislature two years ago, were stormy, owing to a bitter fight which was waged against a bill which was supposed to deal fairly with both the building and loan associations and their patrons.

This measure was a substitute for a bill which had been introduced into the lower house by Assemblyman Waste of Berkeley, now one of the Superior Judges of Alameda county.

The proponents of the measure held that it was just to both the associations and the borrowers, while its antagonists boldly asserted that it was a measure devised in the interests of the "big boys" of San Francisco, which strove to drive the smaller local concerns out of existence.

The bill passed the Senate, but failed of success in the Assembly, having been lost by only a few votes.

NOW BANKERS.
Enemies of the measure say that several of the men whose sinister influence was behind the bill have retired from the building and loan and have gone into a society all banking business. Their influence, it is believed, will not be exercised in the consideration of proposed new measures.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE.
Immediately after the failure of the Assembly to pass the bill in question, that body appointed a committee consisting of Brown, Treasurer of Los Angeles and King of Napa to report, a measure on the subject at this session.

King has not returned to the Legislature, but Brown and Treasurer are here and their report will be awaited with the greatest interest.

OTIS RESIGNS PRESIDENCY.

If the bill is not such as to protect the associations and people alike, Otis says he will introduce a measure of his own and fight for it through the session. In order to do this with consistency, he has resigned the presidency of the California League of Building and Loan Associations, which comprises one hundred and twenty organizations.

Otis was hostile to the substitute bill of two years ago. It was he who prepared the bill for which the other was a substitute. Otis himself has now a chance to fight on the floor, when before he could argue only in committee.

NEW CHARTER OF ALAMEDA

Bates and Otis to Introduce Measure in Both Houses Monday Next.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 11.—Senator Bates and Assemblyman Frank Otis, both of Alameda, have decided that they will introduce into their respective houses for ratification by the legislature, the charter which was voted on and adopted by the people of the city several months ago. The introduction will take place next Monday when there will be a great rush of measures poured into the legislative mill.

FORMALITIES.
The charter has been attested by the City Clerk of Alameda and has, apparently, all the formalities of a legal instrument. It is a voluminous document comprising twenty-five newspaper columns of matter and a number of days must elapse when taken into consideration with the other measures which must be handled at the same time, before it can be returned from the printer.

UNIQUE FEATURES.
The instrument contains a number of features which have recently been incorporated in some of the people of the south, such as the referendum and the recall, by petition, of an official who may have failed to satisfy all his constituents or who has incurred the enmity of some of them.

Assemblyman Johnson of this city has voted against several instruments of this kind, but Messrs. Bates and Otis say that they have no fear of meeting antagonism to the measure.

PEOPLE'S WILL.
They will adduce proof that the charter represents the wishes of the people of Alameda by a majority of three to one, that the people of that city should be given the right to elect their local laws they want to conform and that the legislature should merely ratify those laws and not try to amend them.

This practice has been generally followed under similar circumstances in the past and there is no likelihood that it will be departed from at this time.

WARSHIPS FOR PACIFIC COAST

Probable Vessels Will Be Sent Westward After Culebra Maneuvers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Although the suggestion has been made that on account of the weak reputation of armored ships on the Pacific coast, several such vessels should be sent there at once, it was stated today that the naval general board has no present intention of disturbing the plans made long since for the maneuvers which are about to begin at Culebra and Guantanamo.

The program of exercises covers a period of six weeks, during which time the entire Atlantic fleet will undergo rigid drills and target practice. It is not improbable, however, that after the fleet reaches northern waters for the usual scraping and minor repairs and is finally to be dispersed, some ships of the heavy armored class may be sent around the Horn for station in the Pacific waters along the United States coast.

This, it is said, can be accomplished without seriously affecting the composition of the Atlantic fleet, because of the fact that several new battleships and armored cruisers will be commissioned within the next few months which can take the place of the vessels withdrawn.

DEATH ROBS TENDERLOIN OF MYSTERIOUS CHARACTER

"Plum Pudding" Tommy, Often Reported Dead, Finally Passes Away After a Hemorrhage.

By EDDIE SMITH.

"Plum Pudding" Tommy, one of the best known characters of San Francisco's old tenderloin, has passed to the great beyond. He died last Tuesday, and though the news was made known immediately after his death, many regarded the story with suspicion. Tommy has been reported dead many times before, and each time money was collected to save him a resting place in the Potter's field, but each time, however, Tommy has mysteriously turned up with his usual perpetual jag. Those who knew him best claim that some of the reports of his death were started by himself, and then the money collected by his friends was spent in tenderloin benzine dispensaries.

Just how old he was, or how and when Tommy came to California, no one seems to know. He was first known as a race-track tout, and if the stories told are true, he was a great success in the art of holding out bets supposed to be placed for some unsuspecting gentleman who had wandered into the betting ring without a guardian, and going over the fence with the coin when things came too fast for him. He was finally ruled off the track, and the past years he has lived so mysteriously that even his intimates

First Dance at Germania Hall Tomorrow Night Will Be Success.

Tomorrow night at Germania Hall, the jockeys will hold forth with the first of their annual dances to be given in Oakland. The affair is being handled by some of the best known turf men, and as the arrangements are in the hands of experienced men, the first dance should prove a great success. Many of the celebrities of the race track will be on hand, and as every boy now riding at Emeryville has announced that he will be there, the sight will be a novel and interesting one to those who do not dance.

GIFT IS DELAYED FOR TWENTY YEARS

WINSTED, Conn., Jan. 11.—Twenty years ago, when C. B. Leach, treasurer of the Columbia Trust company of Middletown, and Mrs. Leach were married, a Hartford relative sent them as a wedding gift a valuable handkerchief. In unpacking the many presents the box which contained it was overlooked and was thrown in among some wrappings and carried to the loft in the barn.

The Hartford cousin wondered why no acknowledgment was made of the gift. Recently Mr. Leach decided to have the upper part of the barn cleaned and Alfred Oliver, Woodworth to do the work. He discovered the gift, and Mrs. Leach sat right down and wrote a long letter of explanation and apology to the Hartford friend.
